A DRAGON AT THE PARTY?

No, the dragon has never been a CaDansa mascot, but it has been a special part of CaDansa since 2016. How, you wonder? Well, since 2016 Mr. Fruits supplies his 'Boisson des Dragons'. You can get it at the bar. The real daredevils are drinking this ginger drink as a shot. But you can also ask to mix it with some hot or cold water. It does wonders when you danced all night long and feel that throat ache coming in! More info: www.sirops-du-barbu.com

SOCIAL BUTTONS

At the merch stand you will find 'social dance' buttons in all colours of the rainbow. They are hand made by Maartje de Goede. She is also CaDansa's designer and she created all the incredible posters and themes.

FISHY INSTRUMENT IN THE CONSIGNE

Friday evening a shark was left in the consigne. While sharks usually thrive in the water, this particular species had to be protected from the rain. Thus it stayed at the venue with all the instruments. No bites were reported by the time today's CaDaily was printed.

SHIRTS

As you may have heard we made a mistake and ordered too few T-shirts. But we do want everyone to be able to get one, so we will order more and send it to you. That means we'll have to charge a bit extra for delivery. Below you can see the prices, delivery included, depending on where you want us to send it. Place your order at the merch stand before Sunday at closing time.

Delivery to the Netherlands € 32,-

Delivery to EU + UK € 35,-

Having it sent elsewhere? Ask at the merch stand for delivery to other places.

SHARING OUR SPACE AT CADANSA

Koen hosted a workshop about sharing our space at the dance floor. It was an interesting session with good conversations. Find Koen's notes next to the CaDansa guidelines at the info board. It is about sharing the space in the literal sense, but we are also sharing a social space. With our team of organisers and many volunteers, we work hard to offer everyone a beautiful, magical and safe CaDansa.

Of course we're just humans and we're not perfect. We have our blind spots on and off the dance floor and need to be in constant dialogue to further improve CaDansa. Do you have any tips, experience or perhaps anecdotes about your experience at CaDansa? We'd love to hear it. Tell us, e-mail us or fill out an evaluation form.

RUMOURS

- 'I guess you are keeping track of each time Selena says "Oh Wouko...!"' (Could be in a sarcastic tone, a disappointed tone, or horny. who knows)?' We received this interpretation of the riddle we posed on Thursday's edition (read back if you're curious). Not quite right. We have another hint to solve the riddle:

Selena has her personal tissue box. And the count is: ~~IIII~~ III

- The Board Game Room has a 'party hat making corner', upstairs from the bar. Get your party looks on for CaDansa's 10th Anniversary tonight!
- Beat Bouet Trio are hiding a secret song from us? A conspiracy is afoot to release it. Apparently, some people are going to start singing the song during the concert to make sure the band will release it. Will you join the rebels?
- Rumour has it that the cleaning team came up with strategies to make everybody leave at closing time. Like bringing all things and persons they find to lost and found. Check L&F for any misplaced items such as partners, friends and babies. For daycare, there's other solutions...
- CaDansians really take responsibility to keep each other safe, especially the blindfolded dancers. Yesterday a follower joined a cercle with a loose shoelace. When the leaders danced inwards, a spectator managed to tie the lace within the 8 measures of the followers standing still... We wonder if the follower even noticed...
