DUTCH WORDS OF THE DAY

Knipperlichtrelatie - On-again, off-again relationship (literally turn signal lights relationship).

Stroboscooprelatie - Very fast on-again off-again relationship (or strobe light relationship)

CADANSA IS NOW MILLENARY

Last night, we hit another landmark. Between organisers, volunteers, audience and artists, there were one thousand people involved in this year's CaDansa. That's a one followed by three zeros. We're a growing family, indeed. Lots of Fertile Fridays may follow!

POST-CADANSA BALL

One more day of CaDansa just not enough?

If you who are still hungry for bals, our lovely sound technician is organising a bal in Utrecht this Monday with Airboxes!

TRUST BETWEEN THE SPECIES

When we first learned of the presence of sharks, we immediately put out warnings to the public - we are here not just to inform but also to ensure everyone's safety.

However, the sharks couldn't be friendlier (or cuddlier) so we have learned to trust them. The sharks learned to trust us too - one was seen using the blindfold bench!

But wait a minute, don't sharks hunt by scent?

EVENTBRITE T-SHIRTS

Did you put on your last fresh t-shirt this morning? Perhaps you forgot to pick up your prepaid t-shirt.... Stay fresh and fruity: pick it up at the Info/Merch stand before closing time today (19.30).

MORE CADANSAS?

You might have noticed no dates for next year's CaDansa have been announced yet. That's because we don't have a date yet. But it's going to happen, right? Well, it needs a date in order to happen, so, until we have that, we don't know.

Rest assured the organisers are working on it. And as soon as we have the date, we'll share it. All the more reason to follow us on social media!

RUMOURS

- Clocks turning backwards leads to strange behaviour. A couple tried to get into De Meenthe with unknown QR Codes, looking confused by all the dancing. Upon investigation, it was clear the QR codes were valid for an event at De Meenthe ... taking place next weekend! We just hope they didn't travel far...
- We heard someone did a striptease in the photobooth on Saturday, the camera caught something 'up skirt'. But for whom?
- We heard there are two polls, one counting how many people have been to all ten CaDansa's, and one counting who's here for the first time. It is supposed to be at the end of the poster gallery.
- Some say Edwin's 'knipperlichtrelatie' with snake/caterpillar turned into 'stroboscooprelatie'. Lost in translation? Check the Dutch words of the day on the front page!
- We heard a rumour that singing people are like ... bagpipes? We're not sure what to make of that, but if you heard it at a CaDansa workshop, then it's probably true.
- Shark, mouse, snake, bear, squirrel and hedgehog all joined the dance floor last night. Mouse felt very loved by all the surprised and happy faces meeting its friends in a beastly jig. They behaved very well and didn't turn it into a zoo. Although shark did feel tempted to bite some bouncing buttocks.
- Apparently there is a Dutch couple celebrating their own 10-year anniversary at CaDansa, where they met, now with 2 children. They've left now, the first dance was just for them, its a mystery with whom they danced the last dance.
- There's rumours of strange beings under the stage, telling stories and looking for dragons.
