

CaDansa

Balfolk Festival

DAILY

SATURDAY EDITION

RUMOURS

WE'RE WELL ON OUR WAY...

so we decided to ask some people from Duiven (who happened to wander into the CCOG) what they think of us:

Duivenaar (slightly drunk): I've been drinking coffee with some of your people this morning, I think you're really nice people and I think it's great how you put Duiven on the map, from a European point of view.

Selena: Will you come and dance with us tomorrow? We've got a dance workshop.

Duivenaar: No, they'll pick me up in an hour's time, then I'm off to Sicily - it's 30 degrees there!

Other Duivenaar: Can I ask you a question?

Selena: Go ahead.

Duivenaar: Do you have any rules?

Selena: Nope.

Duivenaar 1: So if I have a criminal record, I'd still be allowed to enter?

Selena: Yes, why wouldn't we let you in?

Duivenaar 2 to Duivenaar 1: You should just behave, that's what all these people do here.

Duivenaar 1: Yes, but how does that work? Do you pay a subscription fee? How do you meet? Facebook, fora, websites, those things? How can people belong to your group?

Selena: Everyone is welcome, we've got a website...

Duivenaar 1: Yeah, but how does it work?

Duivenaar 2 to Duivenaar 1: Come on, it's not a sect!

Duivenaar 1: You dress differently.

Selena: Yes, we dress in clothes we feel good in and feel like we look good, that's what you do too, right?

Duivenaar: Yes, but do you feel sexy?

Selena: Yes, don't you like me in this dress?

Duivenaar: Well, now that I know you, yes, but if I'd met you at Arnhem station, I'd have thought differently.

Selena: Oh, so what do you think?

Duivenaar: It's a whole new experience.

Duivenaar2: You don't drink a lot of alcohol.

Selena: We do drink alcohol, but if you dance all night and sweat a lot, drinking alcohol isn't very handy. Especially if you want to dance for four days.

Duivenaar2: Boring.

*The smokers' lounge is outfitted with a wonderful red comfy chair, but the CaDansa HQ has its own killer chair. Not an electric chair, since that's not balfolk enough, just a mechanic one, that's quite able to launch tired organisers. So far it has claimed four victims (they all recovered though.)

*The spontaneous jam session in front of the town hall has led to a visit of one of the Duiven municipality councillors who has now decided he likes us. :)

*We will probably never find out why one musician decided that it was a good idea to draw a penis on another musician's body.

SUNDAY WORKSHOP

Only one workshop this Sunday, but a great chance for all those people we had to disappoint earlier on: there'll be another BAGPIPE WORKSHOP
This one will start at noon - 12.00 - at the CCOG. No need to bring your own bagpipe, we've got them for you. Just sign in at the cash register if you want to join.

What do you do when the weather is nice, you have musicians and dancers and inside it's still sound-check time? You go and have an outdoors session!!

You still have a chance to take a picture at the smoking lounge!

QUOTES

*Volunteer, walking through the CCOG and noticing lots of people slumped onto chairs: 'Ah, the time of crashing people has arrived'.

*Duivenaar: 'It must be summer again. The hippies have returned'.

*Bingo participant: 'I though hopscotch was some kind of drinking game with whiskey'

*"Lars? That's the guy with the 'I'm off duty, please dance with me' tape stuck to his forehead"

*Tjarda: "Dutch men you really need to ask for a dance. Italians, however, will ask you, as long as you stand quietly at the side and look cute and all."

IN THE CHAIR - THE BATTLE IS ON!

The battle is on! On the one hand we have Selena, who vowed to have her picture taken with every man present at the festival. One of her first victims was Tom, who decided he'd do the same - with all the women at the festival. So far it seems Tom is in the lead, but Selena is following close behind, and there is talk about a secret third competitor who doesn't mind what gender the person they have their picture taken with.

Find the pictures at orkfotografie.nl/cadansa2014

FOOOOOOOOD!

So far we haven't been able to pick a favourite food yet, but the Speltburger is said to be extremely popular, and the beetroot soup was a hit during the almost-summer afternoon.

And apparently it only takes one workshop of Poitou dancing to dance off two brownies, so no sweat. Or lots of sweat, really.

COME TO THE MARKET!

The market had its first day today, but if you missed it (too busy dancing, for instance), you still have a chance tomorrow! For the best bags, straw braiding, colour advice, cards, fluffy things and jewellery. Grab a coffee (and a bite to eat, maybe - lavendermuffins, anyone?) and take a stroll around. Had we mentioned that our great coffee guy also has the best hot chocolate and can make you a mean soy milk cappucino too?

PROGRAMME

Main stage

- 16:00 Wouter en de Draak
- 17:45 Bal o Gadjo
- 19:45 Coiffure Joziane
- 21:45 Ciac Boum
- 00:30 Aurelien Solo
- 02:30 end

Open Stage

- 16:00 Workshop Bal O'Gadjo
- 17:00 Zoalo
- 18:00 Andoorn
- 19.00 Dance workshop
- 20:45 Silent Disco
- 21:30 Sidaro + Grove Maling
- 22:30 Wim te Groen
- 23:30 Frank
- 00:30 Silent Disco!

