

CaDansa

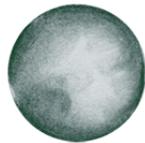

Balfolk Festival

DAILY
2015

FRIDAY EDITION

The first day of CaDansa 2015 is already behind us! Lots of locals came to visit and despite the accident on the Octopodium they had a great time. How did you like the night? Did you get enough sleep so you can enjoy a day of workshops and a loooong night of dancing?

WORKSHOPLOCATIONS

If you studied the workshop schedule yesterday you would have seen that there are 3 workshoplocations today.

All music workshops are at primary school Remigius, only a 2 minute walk from the Ogtent.

Two dance workshops (Biodanza and the Bourree de Berry workshop by La Jupette Barbue) will be on the Octopodium in the Ogtent.

All other dance workshops are at the building on the Visserlaan, approximately 20 minutes walking from the Ogtent. You can pick up a map at the entrance of the Ogtent.

QUOTES

*Delphine: "You are even more sexy than last time! I can see it. I can even smell it."

S: "But I changed my underwear this morning?!"

*"Don't forget to check in!"

*"Don't forget to check out!"

*"Is Cecilia useful?"

(DJ)BATTLE OF THE SPOUSES

Tonight on the Octopodium, husband and wife Jon-Ruben and Femke will do their best to get the most dancers tuning into their Silent Disco channel. Jon-Ruben will try to lure people in with some Tango music, will this make him beat Femke?

SLEEPING AT THE WERELDWIJZER

It took a lot of work yesterday, but after a lot of moving tables and cutting tape 60 people found their bed in primary school the Wereldwijzer. The new system for checking in and out seems to be a succes, but the doorwatch is already thinking up plans for an even better (or more interesting) system.

SWIMMING ON SATURDAY

Tomorrow from 14:00 until 17:00 you can join our balfolk-disco swimming party. For one coin you can swim for 20 minutes, play with the toys in the pool and listen to the crazy artists who are playing in a warm, wet room!

RUMOURS

*This year's new option to pay with a card at the festival is a huge succes: 4.5 metres of "PIN" payments were made!

* Cadaily has heard that the people who are backstage behave like little kids. There are even toys for small children (like Playmobil, and wooden construction bricks), and the power outlets are childsave. The fact that the area usually is used for a daycare has nothing to do with it.

* The artists will have a building contest backstage with the wooden bricks. Who will win this exciting contest?

* The bun's with "rendang", the beef stew are great, but if you have trouble eating it without making a mess, rumor has it that a spoon works great!

BREAKFAST WITH BALFOLKIES

You can tell that CaDansa ended early last night, because we found a lot of balfolkies at breakfast in the morning looking very much awake.
