

CaDansa

Balfolk Festival

DAILY
2015

SUNDAY EDITION

Only one day left! Don't be sad because we will definitely be back next year and we still have an afternoon and evening full of great bands for you.

BACKSTAGE

In the backstage several musicians, backstage volunteers and CaDansa crew participated in a giant eight person rotating futsal battle. We're not sure who won in the end, but it was loud, there was cheating, brilliant shots and loads of fun. Music, either played next to the table, or made by using the table as an instrument was involved.

Fussball

BEST WISHES

Most of you saw or heard that on Thursday one of our visitors from Duiven had to be taken out of the building on a stretcher. Mrs Knuman had fallen during a jig and as it turned out, broke her shin- and calf bone. She's still in the hospital, so we are going to send her a "get well soon" basket of with fruit, candy and hopefully, loads of cards. In the bar you can write a card to give Mrs Knuman your best wishes.

BmB

You can still hand in your suggestions for what BmB could stand for (see CaDaily Saturday)

OCTOPODIUM

The Open Stage on the Octopodium was a big hit yesterday. Several great bands and artists got a room full of people dancing. When Wim te Groen was playing people even had to move outside and use the Silent Disco headphones to stream the music.

NOT SO SILENT DISCO

Our own Cecilia, her friends, and random strangers who showed up performed all the sing-along songs from your teenage years (Thake That, Spice Girls) and some modern songs you cannot get out of your head (Call me maybe) a capella in the hallway while wearing Silent Disco headphones. Video on our facebook page soon!

Sing-along

QUOTES

- *Maud: "There is an octopus in my hole!"
- *Komred: "The size of your banana does not matter"
- *Lady to doorguard Fulco: "Je moet overwicht hebben", Barbara, walking by: "Heb je overgewicht?"
- *Chris: "I'm not awake enough yet to be interesting"
- *Berend: "Good morning sweet zombie"
- *"Niels, Lars wants you....on the table...without pants"
- *"How many steps fit into a banana?"
- *"Goede Ogent"

Games

RUMOURS

- *Even without an opponent, Maud still manages to get a goal against her when playing fussball.
- *Bars are not just for serving drinks anymore, they also can be used as a dancefloor.
- *Not one of the Ocean Stage artists, but Adriano who played on the Open Stage managed to become the #1 AND #2 best selling artist on Saturday, followed by Naragonia.
- *Playing games in the Ogtent is a very popular way to pass the time.

MAILBOX MESSAGES

A love poem
I love fish
Fish love bubbles
Bubbles
Blub
Why are you following me?
- M & A

POOL PARTY

The pool party was loads of fun, but started a bit late, according to the messages left in our mailbox. It seems it is impossible to dance in the water and still look good, but people sure tried! Shall we organize this again next year?

MORE RUMOURS

- *Musicians from the Auvergne are insane.
- *Lucas, that outfit is too small for you!
- *Purple coins were used to pay, even though we only have gold, blue and red coins... Money laundering?
- * Speaking of money laundering, rumour has it Duiven has its own maffia. All we have seen is a "scootmobil" club made up of very old people.
- *The bar ran out of beer, but they managed to find more!
- *La Jupette Barbue has lost its instruments, if you find them please return them to the backstage.
- *Folkies were still hiding in the library after closing hours, but we managed to chase them all out.
- *Door guard Steef has a 9 times in/out rule.
- *We're almost out of toilet paper.
- *Mama Selena has banned Niels from getting up early this morning.
- *Most women carry their coins in their left bra cup, probably because most are right handed.
- *The hotel performed extra strict room checks at breakfast because people tried to sneak in.
- *"Pils" has sold out, white beer (not bear Wouko!) is now 1 coin.

After party

EXTRA HOUR

Almost everyone got to sleep an extra hour last night due to daylight saving time...except our night guards who had to be on duty for an extra hour, please give them a big hug to thank them.

AFTER PARTY

Who knew hotel rooms could contain that many people (and are that well sound proofed). Loads of people decided not to sleep an extra hour, but to keep on dancing.
