PARKING PROBLEMS!

Are you looking for a place to park your car close to the festival, but is the parking lot full? Behind the big parking lot there is a huge plot of empty ground (for visitors of CaDansa 2014, where the Spellenward used to be), you are allowed to park here! There are no marked spots and the ground is not paved, but there is plenty of space!

Parking here also helps us, as it keeps the people who live close to the OGtent happy, because we are not parking in front of their houses :)

DRESSING IN THEME

Are you dressing in theme on Saturday? Every year Maartje de Goede, our designer, comes up with the most fantastic and cute artwork. The theme of this year is 'Nightcircus'. Some visitors came up with the idea to dress up in theme. Think black and white, a touch of red and retro circus (but no clowns please, we don't want to scare anyone.) You can dress up in theme if you like, but nothing is obligatory. The best outfit will win a nice set of Cadansa posters and cards.

The barteam has their outfit ready, cadansacupclown?

STATISTICS

We looked up some statistics on the weekend tickets. There are at least sixteen nationalities at Cadansa (Netherlands, Germany, Belgium, France, Poland, Italy, Switzerland, UK, Sweden, Portugal, Ireland, Slovenia, Czech Republic, Denmark, Luxembourg and USA). 35% of the weekend are bought by Dutch visitors, 21% by German visitors, 16% by Belgian and for the other nationalities it is under 10%.

The data of the weekend tickets shows that there might be a few more women (55%) than men (45%) at the festival.

The average age of the weekend ticket owners is 36,4 years old.

BALFOLK ORGANISERS MEETING

There are many folk organisers at Cadansa and some started the initiative to have a meeting. Are you a balfolk organizer? Join the meeting from 14.00 - 16.00 upstairs in the OGtent, at the other side of the consigne.

SWIMMING

Tomorrow the swimming pool on the 2nd floor of the OGtent (above the festival) is open for us from 14.00-17.00. It costs 1 coin for 20 minutes and 2 when you want to stay longer, as long as there is enough space (otherwise it is 'first in first out') Musicians are very welcome!

WORKSHOPS

Do you know which workshop you are going to participate in? You find the workshops schedule in the OGtent as well as the route map. Please be on time and don't get lost. For some music workshops you can still register at the cash register. The hurdy-gurdy workshop by Thierry Nouat is in the OGtent (mainbuilding).

RUMOURS

Maartje gets a shot of ginger. 'AHH, is Mr. Fruit here?', 'No, only his ginger.', 'Well, that's the best part anyway.'

Anne-Marleen met her good friend Jan from France, because she had to make him beat-box at the first edition of Cadansa.

Manon and Selena discovered that having no smart phone is nice and quiet, but has it's downside. They couldn't take a photo of Louise in her bra... ?

At the bar they already found a themed dress for tomorrow!

Barbara to Niels 'I feel something funny under your shirt!'

Selena was put outside of the building because she didn't have a bracelet. It is on film! (maybe I am going to fix a bracelet...or just stay hidden in HQ)
