

CaDansa

Balfolk Festival

OTTOBER 2019

DAILY

27 OCTOBER

One moment, you're packing your dance shoes and wondering which dress or shirt to take with you to CaDansa and then, suddenly, it's already the last day! Let's make it a good one lovely people :) And... see you next year at CaDansa from 22 - 25 October!

WANT TO HELP?

After the ball we have to bring this venue back to it's normal state... We heard it is not supposed to be an Indian summer camping. So we have to catch the fish in the pond and pump all the water out. Do you want to help out? We will announce to whom you can go to offer your help after the

COLOURFUL CADANSA

We already received many beautiful colouring pages. They are at the entrance behind the window. You can still send them in today. In the afternoon we will decide which one is the best. This person will win an entrance ticket for next year's CaDansa!

RUMOURS

- DJ Libertad was a bit worried in the Silent Disco... his audience disappeared. Did the disco otters dive under water? Gladly they could be retrieved from the main stage.
- Do you know this feeling of being at a festival, but don't really feeling like dancing? It's also fun to just socialise and enjoy the atmosphere. Some visitors came up with a word for that: 'to chris'... Since Christine is always at CaDansa but she almost never dances.
- Besides otters, we had some guinea pigs last night at the open stage. Nubia was testing some music for their new CD. The test was really successful!
- Pillow fights are from last year... the volunteers invented the sleeping bag fight in the volunteer dorms.
- The trolls couldn't stop making music, still playing at 2.00 am in the hotel... They are well raised trolls though... the asked the staff permission first.
- We had someone here for the workshop at 10... Forgot about winter time, at least he was on time :)

I like otters
& others

THE THEME SONG

At the men's toilet some people started the balfolk theme song... The paper is missing, but maybe you can finish it?

...
 I wanna be the very best
 Like no one ever was
 To river dance
 Is my real test

WE WANT YOU!

On Thursday we announced that the organising team is looking for someone (living in the Netherlands) to help organising CaDansa. Did you have time to think about it? Don't forget to e-mail to info@cadansa.nl when you're interested!

OTTER RUMOURS

- You can already find some photo's online. Find them at www.cadansa.nl/cadansa-2019
- Do you think the volunteers are a bit hyper active today? Maybe it's because of the luxurious (sugary) Sunday morning breakfast they had this morning...

CAN YOU SOLVE THIS PUZZLE?

