

THE CaDaily

2026 SATURDAY EDITION

FOR THE LATEST NEWS, FUN STORIES AND VARIOUS RUMORS FROM

CaDansa
Balfolk Festival

Welcome to Saturday on the dancefloor of CaDansa 2026! Are you ready for a long night of dancing, spinning around the dancefloor and following every groove until your feet can't take any more?

How many steps do you think we'll take together tonight?

Make a guess, put on your dancing shoes and let yourself get carried away by the music. We're ready to dance our way through the night, and we hope you are too. Let's make this Saturday night one to remember!

IMPORTANT - TODAY - BE THERE!

AFTER ALL THE HYPE - TODAY YOU'LL FIND OUT :)

SO MANY VISITS!

Yesterday we asked how often you've been to CaDansa, and ...

CURIOUS TIMES...

Upstairs in front of the HQ, some clever dancers went fishing for dance partners with a string and a little note asking 'Would you like to dance?' A creative way to catch someone's eye — but how many fish actually took the bait?

At the 'Obscure French Dances' workshop, with all the spinning and bottles of wine involved, we couldn't help but wonder: was this how 'spin the bottle' was invented?

Rectification:
Satay sauce isn't a smoothie, it's soup.
Our deepest apologies.

WAIT
WHAT?!

LET'S BRING THEM BACK TOGETHER!

- "I AM NOT READY"
- "Your normal foot"
- "But... but... did you see the CAT?!"
- A visitor lost their pack of flour
- "The trees are saved"
- "13 people in one bedstead you said?"

Dear Blindfold-
a game partner,
I really enjoyed
dancing with you.
I don't know who you are, but if
you remember me,
could you come
find me (again)?

MEET THE MASCOT

Every day a tiny interview with a special visitor!

Hello, I'm Jattie. I'm one of the bigger stuffed toys around here, and so is my ego. I'm a mascot with a personality!

MY STORY

Just like every other mascot, I like to cuddle, to snuggle and to become everybody's friend. My paws can be quite wild and all over the place, so says my partner, so she tells everybody to stop me from bothering you. But this is my first time at CaDansa, and everybody looks so huggable! I can barely help it, but looking at all those dancing people is also a good alternative on the nestling.

SO MUCH DANCING, SO MANY SHIRTS!

Now on day 3, hopefully no-one is getting in wardrobe trouble. Did everyone come well prepared, or were there dance outfit miscalculations? For today's poll - did you bring enough t-shirts?

1. Definitely too many, to be sure
2. Should be just enough
3. Already wishing I brought more
4. Nope, send shirts!

Share your shirt situation on the poster wall, or via our stories on Instagram and Facebook. And tomorrow we'll share how dire the situation is or isn't...

QUESTION OF THE CA-DAY: CADANSA IN ONE WORD?

Of course we can tell endless stories about what we've seen and done at CaDansa. But can we also keep it short and sweet? How would you describe CaDansa in one word?

(Ok, maybe two if you reaaaaally must...)

Drop your one word in one of the fabulous mailboxes or write it on the poster wall!

TINY TRAGEDIES

They're easy to miss - small sad things that happen:

- A bumblebee desperately trying to get into stall 3
- People workshopped SO hard they somehow broke a window?!
- Having to wait for the FAST food, while the other food is given right away
- Almost falling from your chair while reading the CaDaily (let's assume it was because of our great content and not any sitting-on-chair-skill issues on their side)
- A reward was offered to locate a missing item - but the item was already located. No free chocolate
- Needing a ride to pick up your phone, but needing said phone to arrange that ride
- At CaDansa, it's all about dancing feet! But what if you only packed one dancing shoe, forgot both, or accidentally took someone else's from home? Yes, it actually happened! We hope every pair of dancing feet found a way onto the dancefloor, with a little help from our lovely dance community.

CARE TO SHARE?

The mailboxes are near the bar and the info desk. Or get in touch at cadaily@cadansa.nl or social media. And maybe you'll see it in the next CaDaily! And if not in the paper edition, then keep an eye out for the after-CaDansa edition ;)
